

Spring in to Style for 2012

With Spring just around the corner, looking stylish whether in or out of the saddle helps everyone to feel better after the winter months.

In this issue we provide top fashion advice from the team at EquestrianClearance.com and what's hot and what to look out for in the style takes throughout Spring 2012.

Spring/summer 2012 will no doubt see the return of the famous Union Jack colours in support of London 2012," says Katie Farmer.

"Colours such as navy, red and white are sure to be a big hit. Brands will be offering a large variety of items that you can mix and match to create the perfect outfit.

"The summer celebrations for 2012 are very exciting and everyone will be wanting to make the most of this great opportunity. "Other colours such as pinks, greys and yellows including lemon will make a return to brighten up your wardrobe and give that feminine touch with gentle stripes and subtle spots.

"How you look whether on the yard or nipping in to town can make such a difference to your overall well being so mix and match tops and bottoms until you find a look that really suits. Items such as fitted and belted jackets will remain a firm favourite for their elegant style. Padded gilets have been a huge hit and will see lightweight versions added to lines with the warmer weather facing. "Classic polo shirts are a must have and form the basis of any riders wardrobe whether out of the yard, riding or as part of your everyday casual dress. They are a classic, timeless piece that always look great with jeans or jodhpurs.

"In terms of riding wear, jodhpurs will continue to deliver practicality along with a comfortable feel, whilst offering a stylish European design.

"How you look whether on the yard or nipping in to town can make such a ways to original designs adding a splash of colour fit for the warmer weather, so there will be plenty of choice to find your favourite gear." For hassle free shopping and many great bargains visit www.equestrianclearance.com

EXPRESS EQUINE BUYER'S GUIDE

Sophie Rodgers, owner of Express Equine has created a niche market in personal shopping: "Many of my clients ride, work and have families, so keeping up with new products and looks is something that they simply have no time for. They trust my judgement to put the right people with the right products and I have very happy loyal customers as a result."
